

Break-Off Tools

A necessary tool for any 1-1/8" contractor, the BT-10 is designed to snap off form ties with minimal effort.

The key feature is a special three-slot, alloy steel tool head--made from the same steel in fine chisels--carefully through-hardened to give it the wear resistance and toughness to strip many hundreds of foundations. Angled side slots make it easier to reach both high and low ties.

A strong, lightweight tubular steel handle provides plenty of leverage without adding unnecessary weight. And finally, a soft, non-slip vinyl grip is easy on the hands and its bright color makes it harder to lose.
